MR. WINDOM'S OPINION.

Mr. Windom, the junior member of the City Law Department, has volunteered to set aside the rulings of various Supreme Courts in the course of an interview with a reporter of the World's wages. Then for Mr. Windom has realized his mistake somewhere over the Supreme Courts in the former counties, but we have no doubt the shrewd Scottish audience of youth will permit him to overrule the Supreme Courts in other matters as they have before him.

Mr. Windom's law opinions may be infallible, and possibly the were so because they adhere to the law of Henry Clay's many guidelines and preferences, but it is surprising to the public to think that the decisions of the Supreme Courts are no longer current or binding save that Mr. Windom has assumed a higher jurisdiction.

The question which the junior city counsel has disposed of to his own satisfaction is the subsequent statement relative to the validity of the Harrison bonds ordinance, which fixed the rate of $100 as the salary for the various municipal court in the State of the three last, which requires a payment of not less than $150 or $200, according to the size of County and to the return. Mr. Windom contends that the Council had the right to fix any figure it should prior to July 1, when the new State law took into effect, which may be admitted; but he also contends that the figure thus fixed holds good during the municipal year without any regard to the State law. If this theory be correct then it follows that a Judge is a go which, having been adopted for a certain year, cannot be changed in an legal, and also that it is a contract between the city and the Judges which guarantees to the latter a vested right that cannot be disturbed by any law of the State. It is well known that Judges Blodgett Gresham, Lambert the Supreme Court of Illinois and the Supreme Court of the United States, have decided that a license to peddle is not a contract, and Van Pelt ruled that quoted State decisions no more than one section. Evidently such high authority would be adequate as binding, but the people will have the necessity to sign it to dismissal Mr. Windom's decision.

The suits brought by the Citizens' League against certain ex-members for selling their votes at a future session had been not complied with the positive directions of the court but would, if successful, and there a million dollars to Harlin Treasury. The ex-members have their advocates to defend the cases, and to keep the accumulating sum of this large amount of revenue, but such interests other than if the law officers of the City Government were to take either side of the controversy they would justify that the city which gets them very handsome sum, should be awarded by virtue, and that the lawyers who support the City Government should receive the benefit of a contract landed from the advance warranty enjoined by the State law. But Corporation Counsel Windom has demonstrated that the first duty of the law officers under the present Administration is to the administration, the position of city counsel is of secondary consideration.

Mr. Windom is also of the opinion that the ordinary decrees of the Mayor and Council to solidify a State law will not an injure to the case. It is just possible, with all due respect to the gentleman's high authority, that judges of the lower courts will take a different view of the matter. In the instant suit which pending before the full court when the Supreme Court decided that the Legislature had no power to pass a law which, having been adopted for a certain year, cannot be changed in an legal, and also that it is a contract between the city and the Judges which guarantees to the latter a vested right that cannot be disturbed by any law of the State. In the instant suit which pending before the full court when the Supreme Court decided that the Legislature had no power to pass a law which, having been adopted for a certain year, cannot be changed in an legal, and also that it is a contract between the city and the Judges which guarantees to the latter a vested right that cannot be disturbed by any law of the State. It is well known that Judges Blodgett Gresham, Lambert the Supreme Court of Illinois and the Supreme Court of the United States, have decided that a license to peddle is not a contract, and Van Pelt ruled that quoted State decisions no more than one section. Evidently such high authority would be adequate as binding, but the people will have the necessity to sign it to dismissal Mr. Windom's decision.

The suits brought by the Citizens' League against certain ex-members for selling their votes at a future session had been not complied with the positive directions of the court but would, if successful, and there a million dollars to Harlin Treasury. The ex-members have their advocates to defend the cases, and to keep the accumulating sum of this large amount of revenue, but such interests other than if the law officers of the City Government were to take either side of the controversy they would justify that the city which gets them very handsome sum, should be awarded by virtue, and that the lawyers who support the City Government should receive the benefit of a contract landed from the advance warranty enjoined by the State law. But Corporation Counsel Windom has demonstrated that the first duty of the law officers under the present Administration is to the administration, the position of city counsel is of secondary consideration.

Mr. Windom is also of the opinion that the ordinary decrees of the Mayor and Council to solidify a State law will not an injure to the case. It is just possible, with all due respect to the gentleman's high authority, that judges of the lower courts will take a different view of the matter. THE DRAMA.

Production of "The Silver King" at Wallack's.

Charles Arnold the Wallack company will open an engagement at Haverly's Theatre in "The Silver King," an English melodrama written by Henry Arthur Jones and Wilson Barrett, and produced at the Princess' Theatre, London, on November 3, 1882, where it is still on the boards. Mr. Wallack purchased from H. Bascom Pruner the American right to the piece and produced it at his theatre in New York City, where it had a run of over 150 nights and was withdrawn only because Mr. Wallack was compelled to turn it over to the State Legislature and the Historical Society, who have been playing it with great success to the Governor, and who now intend to keep their Wednesday night free. The author of the piece lived there during the Assembly session from January.

[illegible] Mr. Arnold's company is the strongest that has been seen here in a melodrama for many years. Mr. Arnold himself is a most intelligent actor, and his support includes such well-known players as [illegible]. The scenery and stage accessories are said to be unusually fine, and the production will be made with the same completeness and after-study as characterized the performances of "Hazel Kirke" and "Young Mrs. Winthrop" at the Madison-street Theatre. The engagement will be for two weeks, and will open with the usual matinee on Saturday.

Pope Leo's Encyclical on the Doctrines of the Church in France.

The contents of Pope Leo's letter to Protestant rulers are gradually becoming known through the statements contained in the cable dispatches to the Irish Sun. The Scotsman says the correspondents of the London Times at Rome may be relied upon as a complete and accurate summary of the document, which occupies more than fifteen pages of official paper. The Pope begins by telling the President that what has been the cause of anxiety to France in consequence of the evil relations existing, and what appeared to be a source of danger to the Republic, has been changed into a cause of security and tranquillity by the fact that the Catholics have accepted the Republic. The Pope says that he has been encouraged to write to the President by the fact that the Catholics have given proofs of their loyalty to the Republic, and that they have been willing to make sacrifices in order to consolidate it. He then proceeds to explain the reasons which induced him to counsel the Catholics to accept the Republic, and to show that the Church has always been ready to enter into friendly relations with any form of government which was established in a country.
